

TD Auto Finance One Time Payment Authorization

You authorize TD Bank, N.A. ("TD Bank") to initiate a One-Time Payment from your Payment Account to your Auto Finance Account. Your One-Time Payment may be cancelled prior to 3:00pm ET on the day your payment is processed by going to "Pending Payments" tab on the website.

You understand and agree that we may send you electronic notices to the email address provided. This includes, but is not limited to, failed payment notices. In the event a payment is returned, you will remain responsible for making any outstanding payments prior to their due date.

Payment requests received before 3:00pm ET will be processed on the same Business Day, unless your payment is scheduled for a future date. If your payment falls on a weekend or holiday, your payment will be processed on the next Business Day.

You understand this authorization does not alter our rights or your obligations under your Auto Finance Account contract with us regarding the amount of monthly payments, when payments are due, the application of payments, assessment of late charges or other fees, or the determination of delinquencies and remedies.
